Who's Seen Guevara?

HAVANA — People in Havana are asking, "Where's Che Guevara?" Reuters reported. Guevara, a close associate of Premier Castro and Cuba's Minister of Industries, has not been seen in public for more than two months. There are rumors that he is still cutting sugar cane in Oriente province, and others that he is ill. Castro said a month ago that his relations with Guevara were excellent. Associated Press reported that Guevara failed to show up in Buenos Aires, Argentina, for his mother's funeral this week.
